FIRING SQUAD DECREED FOR GEN. HOMMA

M'Arthur Disagrees Sharply With Two U. S. Supreme Court Justice Dissenters
WILL FIX DATE LATER

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, March 21.—(P)—General MacArthur today decreed a firing squad death for Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, his victorious foe in the battle for Bataan, and disagreed sharply with two U. S. supreme court justice dissenters—one of whom had termed the sentence vengeance rather than justice.

Date and details of the execution, which now could be stayed only by President Truman, will be determined in Manila.

Affirming the Manila court martial conviction of Homma, who ordered the infamous Bataan march that cost 17,000 lives MacArthur asserted:

"If this defendant does not deserve his judicial fate, none in jurisdictional history ever did."

Before announcing his decision, MacArthur studied opinions expressed by Supreme Court Justices Murphy and Rutledge, who dissented when the court refused to intervene for Homma. Murphy had denounced Homma's trial as a descent "to the level of revengeful blood purges."

MacArthur declared "no trial could have been fairer" and said dissenters "either advocate arbitrariness of process above factual realism, or . . . inherently shrink from the stern rigidity of capital punishment."

Wataru Narahashi, chief cabinet secretary, said he and the Japanese people agreed as to the justice of MacArthur's decision.

"General MacArthur's decision teaches the Japanese a grave and important lesson," Narahashi said. "The Japanese now know that a commanding general, even if he himself does not issue orders, must assume responsibility for illegal acts of his subordinates."

The Supreme Allied commander in the Pacific said he could find "no circumstances of extenuation."

Savagery of the death march, MacArthur declared, "have shocked the world. They have become synonyms of horror and mark the lowest ebb of depravity of modern (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Suggestion For Attack On Jap Forces Nine Days Before Pearl Harbor Was Rejected

Washington, March 21.—(P)—Former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson has disclosed that President Roosevelt's "war cabinet" discussed and rejected nine days before Pearl Harbor an American attack on Japanese forces "without further warning."

Stimson recounted this in a statement sent to the senate-house committee investigating Japan's surprise blow on December 7, 1941. The committee made it public today.

Stimson related that on the morning of Friday, November 28, 1941, he received information of Japanese movements along the Asiatic coast. They were of such a "formidable character" that he went to the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt was still abed but received his secretary of war and they discussed the matter.

The Stimson story continued: "He suggested that there were three alternatives, as my notes show: First, to do nothing; second, to make something in the nature of an ultimatum, stating a point beyond which we would fight, or third, to fight at once."

"I said that I felt that to do nothing was out of the question and the president agreed with me. As to the other two alternatives, the desirable thing to do from the point of view of our own tactics and safety was to take the initiative and attack without further warning."

At noon on that same Friday, Stimson said, the so-called "war cabinet" met. In addition to Stimson its members were Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Admiral Harold R. Stark, the chief of naval operations, and General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff.

Stimson said this meeting discussed the possible meaning of the Japanese move—possibly an attack on the Philippines, on Thailand, the Dutch East Indies, Singapore, or Rangoon.

"The possibility of an attack on Pearl Harbor was not discussed x x x," he said.

Stimson went on to say that all agreed the Japanese expedition must not be allowed to land in the Gulf of Siam, "that if the Japanese got into the Isthmus of Kra, the British would fight; and, if the British fought, we would have to fight."

"We decided, therefore, that we could not just sit still and do nothing," he continued. "On the other hand, we also decided that we could not attack without a further warning to Japan, and we suggested a special telegram from himself to the emperor of Japan. After some discussion it was decided that he would send such a letter to the emperor, which would not be made public, and that at the same time he would deliver a (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Business Man At Pittsburgh Is Shot Down

Pittsburgh, March 21.—(P)—Police today sought an unknown man as the gunman who killed Marcus Drob, 30-year-old printing company co-owner, with a single pistol bullet yesterday in front of his office in the Hill district.

The slaying occurred as the business man emerged from the door of the Drob-Berger Printing Co., talking with A. Arthur Segall of Oakland, who had applied for a position as a salesman.

Segall said a small man, about 25 years, yelled out: "Hey, you!" Drob turned, staggered and fell to the sidewalk, a bullet wound in his head. He died 20 minutes later in Mercy Hospital. The assailant fled down the street.

Police said they questioned a number of Drob's associates in the shooting, including a young woman with whom the murdered man had been keeping company for about three years. They said (Turn to Page Thirteen)

CHURCHILL'S VISIT TO U. S. IS ENDED

New York, March 21.—(P)—Winston Churchill's 66-day visit to the United States ended today as the former British prime minister sailed for England aboard the Queen Mary.

Churchill and his party boarded the liner last night along with 1,180 British military passengers and 551 civilians, including the Duke of Marlborough, Prince George and Princess Maria of Greece, the Duke and Duchess of Westminister.

Churchill had been in this country since Jan. 14.

PTA Proposes to Relinquish Valvoline Property to Owner

A new development in the War-Memorial situation was revealed last night at a joint meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association committee and the executive committee of the Sports Boosters Association, when it was announced that the P. T. A. proposes to relinquish the offer of the Valvoline property by its owner, Albert Ristau.

Mrs. Walter Mathyer, president of the P. T. A. Council, gave the Sports Boosters directors a complete history of the project to date, before making the announcement of the action taken by the organization at its last meeting.

Mrs. Mathyer intimated that the P. T. A. would like to see the Sports Boosters, an association now composed of nearly 500 men, carry on the work and assure the directors that the P. T. A. could be counted on for cooperation.

Richard Schumacher, president of the Sports Boosters, replied that the association, while definitely committed to support of a project of that sort, had not gone on record as favoring any particular site and that until the executive board could secure information from all parties interested to report back to the association at its April meeting, no definite action could be taken.

Mr. Schumacher stated that the Sports Boosters expect to discuss the matter with the school board, council, highway department and Mr. Ristau within the next week. A meeting of these interests has been arranged for next Wednesday.

Following the talks by Mrs. Mathyer and Mr. Schumacher, there was a discussion of the entire project.

Truman Making No Announcement

Washington, March 21.—(P)—President Truman said today that he would make no announcement on Saturday night that he will be a candidate for reelection in 1948.

The chief executive is scheduled to speak then to a Jackson Day dinner sponsored by the Democratic National Committee. He told a news conference it would be a political speech. But he replied in the negative and with a chuckle an inquiry whether he would announce at the time his candidacy for reelection.

Politics figured in the news conference at another point when Mr. Truman was asked whether he agreed with Secretary of Commerce Wallace that party members who get out of line should be disciplined.

The president laughed and said that he and Wallace never had discussed that.

EISENHOWER FOR LAW TO EXTEND DRAFT

Chief of Staff Favors Law To Limit Service Liability Of Inductees To 18 Months
PATTERSON A WITNESS

Washington, March 21.—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower asked congress today to extend the draft law indefinitely and to limit service liability of inductees to 18 months.

If that is done, the chief of staff told the house military committee, the army can release all fathers by the end of August or early in September regardless of how long they have been in service.

If it is not done, he warned, the army may fall short by 165,000 men of its estimated needed strength of 1,070,000 on July 1, 1947.

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson argued against proposals for a shorter extension of the Selective Service act, which expires on May 15 of this year.

Patterson told the committee that extension of the draft should be coupled with a 20 percent overall increase in pay and allowances for all military personnel.

Eisenhower suggested that legislation extending the draft contain these restrictions: A prohibition against service for more than 18 months; a requirement that no more men be inducted than are necessary to meet estimates of strength required by July 1, 1947; and a stipulation that the army discharge all fathers now in service and decline to induct any in the future.

He told the committee that strength is necessary to support the position of the Allies in the United Nations Organization and said the smaller nations are looking to the larger ones to supply that strength.

While Eisenhower said the shortage in manpower requirements of the army would be 165,000 by July 1, 1947, Patterson estimated the shortage at 170,000 men if the draft law is not extended.

The secretary said present army strength is about 2,500,000, with a net reduction of one million expected between now and next June. He said the war department intends to continue a vigorous recruitment program, and already there have been 617,000 enlistments, more than half of them for a three-year period.

The top army men were also to appear before a closed session of the senate military committee to testify on the draft extension. Secretary of State Byrnes and Navy Secretary Forrestal also may be heard.

Pepper's Call For Parley Is Not Supported

Washington, March 21.—(P)—Senators who heard their colleague, Claude Pepper (D-Fla.), call for a hurried but all-inclusive conference of Russian, American and British leaders appeared inclined today to give UNO first chance at relaxing international tension.

Three reasons lay behind their choice:

1. The United Nations Organization was founded for that very purpose.
2. The UNO Security Council is scheduled to meet in New York next Monday. Hence there would be insufficient time to arrange a meeting such as Pepper suggested in advance of that date.
3. The widely varying make-up of the group Pepper urged in his foreign policy speech from the senate floor yesterday.

One influential member of the foreign relations committee who asked not to be named said an assemblage which included not only the heads of the three governments, but military, business, labor, farm and veterans' leaders would be "a camp meeting" which might cause more trouble than it would cure.

A similar view was expressed by Senator Ellender (D-La.).

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the target of some heavy punches in Pepper's speech, declined comment.

RETURN OF RATIONING IS NOT ANTICIPATED

Washington, March 21.—(P)—President Truman today expressed the hope that a return to wartime food rationing would not be necessary. But said he would not object to a return should it become absolutely essential.

In response to questions which followed a reference to the plans for famine relief abroad, he said:

"Independent producers, he asserted, believe government price controls should be eliminated. If this is not done immediately, he said, crude prices should be increased to a level comparable to that of all other raw materials, as shown by the average price index."

"In the past, increases in the price of crude oil have always stimulated exploration and discovery and thereby have resulted in lower prices to the consumer," he told the committee.

U.S. Delegation to Press for Action On Iranian Case at Meeting of UNO Security Council Scheduled Monday

GARRISONS ARE REPORTED UNDER ATTACK

Iran's 19-Year-Olds Are Summoned to the Colors In Wake of News of Border Fighting

LEFTISTS CONFERRING

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Tehran, March 21.—(P)—Iran's 19-year-olds were summoned to the colors today in the wake of reports that three Iranian army garrisons were under attack by Kurdish tribesmen in the isolated region near the border of Iraq.

At the same time, leaders of Iran's Leftist Tudeh Party were called into private session and rightist elements expressed belief the Tudeh Party might lead leftist demonstrations against the government because of its appeal to the United Nations Security Council against continued presence of Russian troops in Iran.

(In Baghdad, a former Iraq diplomat declared Tuesday upon returning from Tehran that the Tudeh party could stage a coup d'etat at any time. He added: "The great fear in Iran today is that if the Iranians officially announce that they will take the matter to the UNO, then the Communists will be given the word to strike.")

Rightist deputy said Zia Ed-Din, described by political writers as anti-Russian, and generally known as a leading opponent of Premier Ahmed Qavam es Saltaneh, was taken into custody yesterday by two men in the uniform of Iranian army colonels.

Zia Ed-Din told newsmen: "I think they are arresting me because I am not liked by the Russians." He said in an interview Tuesday that "Iran's only hope lies with the UNO."

The army, in announcing the conscription of 19-year-olds, said men in the 22 to 25 year age bracket were being deferred.

(A Moscow radio broadcast heard in London said the Russian government had announced demobilization of six age classes of the Red Army, effective between May and September. Thirty-three age groups, all over 32, previously were ordered demobilized by the president of the supreme Soviet.)

An Iranian general staff officer said heavy snows prevented reinforcement of the three garrisons besieged by Kurds in the north-west, but, he added, seven Iranian planes were trying to keep the garrisons from being cut off from divisional headquarters.

FRENCH PURCHASE OF GRAIN IS DEFENDED

Atlantic City, N. J., March 21.—(P)—Pierre Schneider, French undersecretary of state, told the UNRRA Council today that French purchase of wheat and barley from Russia would help relieve grain shortages elsewhere in the world.

He declared that France had notified the combined food board of the transaction with a request for a corresponding reduction—500,000 tons—in the board's 2,800,000 allocation to the French for the first half of this year.

(The combined food board, upon which sit representatives of Canada, the United States and Britain) allocates supplies available in this country and Canada.)

OPA Policy on Crude Prices Is Criticized

By CHARLES C. HASLET
A Special Washington Service
Washington, March 21.—(P)—The OPA policy on crude oil prices has "contributed substantially toward creating a scarcity value" for petroleum which ultimately must be borne by consumers, a senate committee was told today.

The testimony was prepared by Merle Becker of St. Louis, Mo., vice president of the W. C. McBride Oil Producing Co., for a senate oil investigation committee studying the situation of independent producers.

He said, the OPA has rejected or ignored proposals for higher crude prices made by the Petroleum Administration for War and by several congressional committees.

Independent producers, he asserted, believe government price controls should be eliminated. If this is not done immediately, he said, crude prices should be increased to a level comparable to that of all other raw materials, as shown by the average price index.

"In the past, increases in the price of crude oil have always stimulated exploration and discovery and thereby have resulted in lower prices to the consumer," he told the committee.

Ray Smock, of Meadville, Is Named To Succeed Shroyer Dismissed for Disloyalty

Harrisburg, March 21.—(P)—Ray F. Smock, Meadville, was appointed state secretary of highways today, succeeding John U. Shroyer, dismissed by Governor Martin as disloyal in a dispute over Shroyer's candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

Governor Martin promoted Smock to the $12,000-a-year cabinet post from deputy secretary of highways, a position he has held since November, 1943.

The governor fired his old war "buddy" late yesterday, telling Shroyer by letter he was "no longer loyal" to the administration. The governor cited a speech that Shroyer made at Washington, Pa., last Monday.

Shroyer, who vacated his capitol hill office immediately, issued a statement today that he "was awarded a dishonorable discharge" after spending three years and two months "protecting my friend, Governor Ed Martin, the motor fund and the citizens of this state from elements within this administration who could ruin the first and who would despoil the other two."

Asked at a news conference to elaborate, Shroyer referred newsmen to his Washington speech in which the former cabinet member said he and the governor were not in agreement on "some of his associates."

Shroyer said he will start an intensive campaign for the GOP gubernatorial nomination with a swing through northwestern Pennsylvania, the home territory of Smock, his successor.

"I plan to visit the counties of Clearfield, Venango, Erie, Mercer and Crawford," he stated.

As his first official act, Smock appointed Thomas C. Frame, of Franklin, as chief engineer, succeeding John L. Herber, Camp Hill. Governor Martin said that Herber's future status with the highways department was "up to Smock."

Subject to executive approval, Herber received $9,000 a year in the post.

By the appointment Frame returned to the post he vacated on June 1, 1943, after serving more than 22 years in the highway department. He has since been living in Franklin.

Smock, 58, is a native of Crawford county. He engaged in construction work there for 21 years. He served two terms as register and recorder of Crawford county and was re-elected in 1941 for a third term. He resigned in November, 1943, to take the highway post.

Smock was sworn into his new office by Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the commonwealth, before a group of state officials and employees.

The new highway secretary said Frame's salary will be the same he received when he left the department in 1943—$10,000. Smock said he would decide Herber's status later.

Shroyer, 63-year-old Shamokin dress manufacturer, is running for the gubernatorial nomination in opposition to Attorney General James H. Duff, who is supported by Governor Martin and other party leaders. Martin is a candidate for the U. S. senate as Duff's running mate or the organization-backed ticket.

Governor Martin and Shroyer conferred several times within the past several weeks over the candidacy of the governor's long-time friend against the administration choice for the gubernatorial nomination. Then Shroyer went to Washington, Pa., last Monday and made a speech critical of administration policies.

Martin said he dismissed his war "buddy" of Spanish-American war days after Shroyer refused to resign.

"I had earnestly hoped," the governor wrote Shroyer, "that nothing would arise which would place you in opposition to the policies of this administration, which you for three years and two months have helped to make and have at all times been one of the loudest and most ardent supporters."

RUSSIAN PLEA FOR DELAY TO BE REJECTED

President Truman Declares Flatly Conference Will Open According To Plans

NO "BIG THREE" MEET

Washington, March 21.—(P)—Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko said today that any hasty action by the United Nations Security Council on the Iranian dispute would merely complicate it.

His comment was made shortly after a flat statement by President Truman that next Monday's UNO meeting will not be postponed.

Mr. Truman told his news conference today that the United States delegation will press for action on the explosive controversy, despite Moscow's request for a 16-day delay.

Gromyko talked with reporters at the state department after a hurriedly-arranged 20-minute conference with Secretary Byrnes.

The Soviet ambassador, who returned unexpectedly last night from New York, declined to tell newsmen what he said to Byrnes, but he reiterated that Russia believes the Iranian case unquestionably should be delayed because negotiations are now under way between Iran and Russia.

Asked in what way these negotiations are taking place, he replied they were being carried on through diplomatic channels and that for the security council to take any hasty action would complicate the situation.

On another phase of the Iranian case, Gholam Abbas Aram, first secretary of the Iranian embassy, conferred at length with officials of the state department's middle eastern division, but did not disclose the nature of his talks.

Indications were, however, that he made clear to them that Ambassador Hussein Ala, representing the government of Premier Ahmed Qavam, was hoping and working for a prompt hearing of Iran's appeal for Security Council help in getting Russian troops out of the country.

The Soviets have asked for a 16-day delay on the ground they need time to prepare their answer.

Reminded of the Russian request for a postponement, the president was asked what will happen Monday if the Soviets insist on their plea.

The president told his questioner he had better attend the meeting and find out.

Pickets Block Workers At Westinghouse

BULLETIN
New York, March 21.—(P)—Efforts to end the 65-day-old strike at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants were made today at a new meeting convened by two special federal mediators after the union had rejected a company wage increase plan. At today's session the company was to reply to a union proposal that the corporation grant an "across-the-board" 8 and 1/2 cents an hour increase and leave other disputed issues up to arbitration.

Pittsburgh, March 21.—(P)—At least three supervisory employees were shouldered aside by CIO United Electrical Workers Union pickets today in front of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation's struck East Pittsburgh works.

Picket leaders and deputy sheriffs, on hand to carry out a state supreme court ban against mass picketing, quieted an angry crowd of pickets and on-lookers.

During the incident the street passing in front of the plant's main gate was blocked by the milling crowd.

The supervisory employees were jostled into the middle of the street by pickets circling in front of two gates and an overhead ramp. On-lookers lining the curbs at both sides of the street quickly joined the melee and the picket line temporarily was lost in the milling crowd.

Deputies from Allegheny County Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan's office wearing yellow identification armbands, and picket leaders forced their way into the crowd and cleared the street after quieting angry strikers.

Six carloads of deputies arrived at the scene early this morning and were on duty in and around the crowd.

Meanwhile, hope of an early settlement was dashed when the union, appearing before mediators in New York, rejected a Westinghouse wage offer.

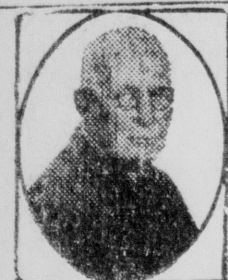

County Red Cross Drive Reported Woefully Lagging

Warren county's Red Cross campaign is woefully lagging, with only two days of the official campaign yet to run. As of this morning, Red Cross headquarters reported receipts, including pledges, totaling $14,139, or 54.3% of quota. Last Monday there had been $10,891 received at headquarters. This means that in the past three days but $3,242 additional has been received.

The official closing date of the campaign had been set at Saturday, March 23, and this date will be observed. However, pledges and cash contributions will still be gratefully received at Red Cross headquarters all during next week. It is hoped, however, that persons who have not yet given will do so tomorrow and Saturday so that the Warren County Chapter will be much closer to its goal by Saturday night.

It is felt that everyone has been contacted or made acquainted with the needs of the Red Cross War Fund. Response from business firms, industries and retailers has, in general, been good, though contributions have not followed last year's figures. But, from a large cross-section of the borough and county, the gifts have been lagging. From this group it is hoped sufficient responsibility and interest can be aroused to see the goal of $26,000 reached.

MR. TRUMAN'S OPTIMISM

If ever a statement needed amplifying, it is President Truman's belief and rather vague assurance that he is not alarmed about the international situation and that he is sure that "we will work it out," says James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror.

The American—and British—people certainly would appreciate from Mr. Truman an explanation of his optimism as explicit as security and diplomacy permit. Instead, they are given two short sentences which treat an obviously dangerous condition in a casual, off-hand manner. Consequently, it is little wonder that the comfort to be found in the President's statement is almost as brief as the statement itself.

The people are to assume that there is no danger of war next week or next month, and that the touchy relations between America, Britain, and Russia will soon be smoothed out. All of us, devoutly wanting to believe this, would breathe a little easier if we knew how it is to be done, and by whom.

The President of the United States clearly possesses a great deal of information in situations like this which is denied to the press and public. It may be that Mr. Truman knows future moves and plans, future policies which permit him an airy, smiling dismissal of a course of events which has thrown millions into a state of gloomy apprehension.

Perhaps he knows that Premier Stalin's present policy is directed at security and not at imperialistic expansion, and that it will shortly be abandoned. Perhaps he knows how Anglo-Russian relations will speedily be improved.

Perhaps Mr. Truman knows in what manner the three powers' conflicting interests in Middle Eastern oil will be adjusted to the satisfaction of all. It may be that he also has assurance either that Britain will not bring up at the imminent United Nations session the treaty-violating presence of Russian troops in Iran, or that Russia will accept the discussion of that subject without threatening a veto or walkout.

If Mr. Truman knows this, then it would be well to pass along these more specific glad tidings to the apprehensive millions who are weak and weary from war, and who hate and fear it as war probably has never before in the history of man been hated and feared.

For today these apprehensive millions can see the war clouds gathering again. And they see little forceful, positive action to dispel them. They see the wartime alliance of the British Empire and the Soviet Union split wider and wider by a bilateral broadside of accusation and self-justification. They see the possibility of the United Nations Organization may have to give an important blessing to the fruits of conquest or see itself destroyed by the departure of one of its most powerful members.

The apprehensive millions see themselves again at the beginning of the road to war. They see themselves speechless and paralyzed, unable to stay the forces that would once more drive them down that road.

Maybe they are wrong, but they are worried. If there is no cause for alarm, let them be given the true story as fully as possible. They are the people who fight war and suffer from it. They deserve to know.

Victory gardening already well under way.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

By WILLIAM BLAIR

President of First Methodist Church Youth Fellowship

The Meaning of Lent: This is the meditative season of the Christian year. Surrounded as we all are by worldly influences, and carried along by the turmoil and vanities of life, it is very important that there should be some special intervals when we can be alone with God and reconsecrate ourselves to His service. Jesus Himself set us the example of retiring at certain times from the world for prayer and meditation.

We are living in times when the drift of men's minds seems to be away from the Saviour. The world is exacting. Its cares, its pleasures, are all around us. It gives little time for meditation. It asks no holiness of heart, while heaven, which asks so much, seems far away, and the one is forgotten for the other. Once a year, at the least, a man should examine the house of his heart and see what kind of spirit lives there. It demands that we fling away the spectacles of pretense and face our souls in the light. Make of it a time when we can renew, by frequent practice, the habit of church-going. Make it a time when we can renew and refresh both our intellectual and devotional acquaintance with the Holy Scripture.

The soul that grows puts away childish things and every succeeding Lent should begin at a point more advanced than the last. It were a pity if any soul finds itself on Ash Wednesday just where it was one year before, with no more strength of grace, no more love for God, or no clearer vision of eternal realities. Surely each Lent ought to be better than its predecessor, and it will be if there has been adequate preparation.

"Get time to think" was the exhortation of the great St. Bernard. How great an advance may be made if only we use the forty days of Lent for careful thought about God and about our souls.

Vienna—Dr. Karl Renner, president of this storm-tossed little republic, tells me he believes that "the great hope for Austria is Vienna itself."

"Vienna," says the doctor, "is destined to be the international center of culture. Vienna has so many treasures of old culture that it will be forever a point for sight-seers. It is a base for air transport. If you want to see Europe in three days, come to Vienna, all is here.

"Vienna knows nearly all the languages of importance. That's the good heritage of the old monarchy. We don't want to restore the monarchy, but we are proud to be its cultural heir."

From this it will be clear that the silver-haired chief of state, with his benign countenance and twinkling eyes, is by way of being a smooth salesman. He injected this lure for tourists into a long interview which I had with him at the chancellery on Austria's general position and her hopes, and he did it so adroitly that it was as fitting as a new hat for Easter.

As a matter of fact I was glad Dr. Renner raised this subject, because it impelled Mrs. Mack and me to re-examine the capital with an expert guide to make a fresh assay of the damage sustained in the siege toward the close of the war. Of course, Vienna was terribly hurt by bombing and gunfire, but a city is like the human body—it can endure grievous injuries and recover without showing many scars.

Now I don't want to inject any over optimistic language into this (Turn to Page Fourteen)

New Product To Ease Work For Household

Kenneth P. Dietrich, president of Hood Chemical Co., Inc., announced today that he has appointed Earl H. Shouse, Pittsburgh merchandise broker, as distributor in Western Pennsylvania and the Tri-State area for a new household cleaner recently developed by Hood.

The new cleaner, known as Sing, will be introduced to the retail trade this week by an extensive advertising campaign in daily newspapers and over radio stations throughout this area. Following its introduction here, Sing will be placed on sale in other sections of the country.

The Hood organization, Mr. Dietrich said today, has established temporary sales headquarters in the Hotel Roosevelt, Pittsburgh, but will move into permanent sales headquarters at 233 Oliver Avenue, or after May 1.

The marketing of Sing marks the first time in its history that Hood Chemical has entered the retail market. Previously the company devoted itself exclusively to the manufacture of chemical compounds for industrial users at its Akron, O., plant.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Council and School Directors Invited To Meet With Sports Boosters Group March 27th

In an effort to have a frank discussion of the outlook for a War Memorial, to take the form of a recreational field, the Sports Boosters Association has issued invitations to the members of Warren borough council and school board and their solicitors, and representatives of the State Highway Department to meet with the executive board of the association at the Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday night at 7:30.

In announcing the issuance of the invitations, Boosters Association President "Dick" Schumacher stated that the sole purpose of the meeting is to secure the ideas, action and suggestions of the councilmen, and school directors who represent the public and who should be most actively concerned in the program.

"While the securing of suitable facilities for outdoor sports is only one of the aims of the Sports Boosters Association," Mr. Schumacher stated, "it is one which has invited much discussion by the public as a whole at the general meetings of the association and at the sessions of our executive board."

This week, at the request of the P. T. A., our executive board met with representatives of that group and heard the history of their project with respect to the Valvoline property, now owned by Mr. Ristau. We now have the facts on this aspect, but before we can form concrete plans we must know the attitude of Council, we must hear the desires of the school board, and we must have more definite information on what effect, if any, the proposed relocation of Route 6, would have on Russell Field and the Valvoline property.

"It is our hope that all councilmen and school directors will attend the meeting next Wednesday, so that we may secure the information to report to our membership."

Solicitors S. D. Blackman and R. Pierson Eaton have also been invited to attend the meeting. The membership committee of the Sports Boosters Association reports that the past ten days have seen a great increase in the number of men who have become active members and that many men and women have taken out contributing memberships to show their approval of the program of the association.

State Gives Borough Fund To Aid Health

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner has approved payment of $1,704.00 to the Warren Borough School District. The amount represents the first payment to be made by the state under the provisions of the School Health Act passed by the 1945 Legislature.

The Act became effective at the beginning of the 1945-46 school year and is administered under the supervision of the State Department of Health and the State Department of Public Instruction. It provides for the medical and dental examination of teachers, other school employees, and all pupils in grades one, three, five, seven, nine and eleven in public and private schools, so that pupils will undergo an examination not less than once every two years. However, examinations are not compulsory where there is parental objection for specified reasons. Physicians and dentists are appointed, or approved by the State Secretary of Health. Physicians are paid at the rate of $1.50 per examination, and may not make more than four examinations per hour. Dentists are paid at the rate of seventy-five cents per examination, and may not make more than eight examinations per hour. The report of the Warren district shows that 54 pupils and 14 employees received medical examinations, and 736 pupils received dental examinations.

Hippocrates, father of medicine, was born on the Island of Cos about 460 B. C.

Spring Here With Sunshine But Chill Air

Spring, that season when the good old days a fellow started to itch in his red flannels and the sulphur and molasses got in their work; the time when suckers were biting and when the venturesome kids took their first dip in the chill waters of some stream. The glad season when the sun shines and the air is chilly and sniffs lurk on every side ready to start the nose dripping with more speed than a tapped maple.

Yep, it arrived at 35 minutes past 12 this morning wholly unannounced and without being interfered with by the cops for fracturing any speed regulations. There were some folks who welcomed Miss Spring and one of them was Old Wolf Winter who sort of hung around gnashing his teeth and almost ready to stage a comeback.

Garlands of spring flowers a-bloom in countless yards about town added a touch of color and sent a few ambitious folk in quest of trailing arbutus only to be disappointed.

However according to the old almanac Spring will linger around until June 21 when summer will come along and everything will be serene if the meat shortage, the wheat shortage, the clothing shortage and sundry and other shortages.

Hillside Route Suggested For Rebuilding Route 6

While discussions are rampant among the state highway officials relative to the new route for Route 6 through Warren and the issue clouded by railroad plans, unperpass discussions Federal inspectors have given the plans a look and have other ideas. They would take the highway east from the top of the grade near F N crossing and carry it north of the railroad tracks into Warren. This would require much grading but could save railroad crossings, building of underpasses, etc., and would be the cheapest and best route for all concerned. Whatever route is chosen seemingly action will only be secured by the citizens of Warren putting a little pressure where it will do the most good.

According to the plan to carry the highway into Warren north of the Pennsylvania and New York Central rail lines it would be brought onto Fourth avenue and then carried by an overhead which would carry it across the New York Central railroad tracks. Hence it would continue across the Conewango creek onto Conewango avenue south to Pennsylvania avenue and thence east. While no surveys have been made of this route it had been pronounced feasible and one that would meet every need for a safe route. Pennsylvania avenue, east would have to be widened to some extent as would Fourth avenue. This can be done.

The plan to carry the highway into the city by an overhead at F N crossing and thence east to the Carver House swinging out onto the island and thence across the Conewango creek would most a large sum and would hold up construction possibly for several years. By the use of the hillside route and Fourth, Conewango and Pennsylvania avenues work could be done next year. Warren certainly is interested in getting the job done as soon as possible and if the hillside route is as practical as state pressure should be started to get the job under way as soon as possible. This route would solve the problem for the railroad, the city and the highway department and looks like it might be the answer to moot question of what route to follow.

Lefty double-crossed you by taking the money you got in that robbery! You oughtn't to be so sore because I killed him! I ain't, but you split that money with you, Luke! I'm helping you find it! It's in the box under the sheriff's hat! I know you don't plan to split with me, either! You need me if you want to get rid of Ryder! Then you'll kill me like you did Lefty! Unless I get you first! That's why I lifted the sheriff's gun! I didn't have long to wait to find out what Growl thought. If you're finished with your tea and crumpets, Philo Vance, I'd like a word with you. Growl put the thumb on me and I got a ride down to headquarters. All right, Growl, so his name was Dice and he was pushed. From your floor, too, Flint. We found this in Dice's pocket?

Forestry Department Reports Several Forest Fires Fought

Despite the many warnings given to property owners relative to the use of care in burning of rubbish five fires were started yesterday from that cause. The rubbish fires got beyond control when they ignited dry grass and ran rapidly into brush. The fire truck of the State Forestry Department was hastily summoned and the crew gave battle.

A fire at FN Tower west of Warren gave some trouble as it raced rapidly toward property and one at Lily Pond also gave some difficulty in being handled. Another in St. Joseph's Cemetery got away from the men burning rubbish while others on Bull Hill, near Sheffield, and one at Endeavor also sprung from rubbish fires.

A gas engine which threw sparks into dry grass on a lease of the South Penn Oil Company at Tiona ignited another fire which burned over quite a large area before being brought under control.

dispatch. Vienna is heavily damaged, but when we have emphasized that point it can be added that relatively speaking she came through her ordeal pretty well. As compared with Berlin, for example, the Austrian capital is in good shape. Berlin is just a shell of its once proud self and must be rebuilt from the ground up. A task in many, many years—but Vienna's damage can be repaired in many important instances.

You get encouragement for that idea if you make your way around the ringstrasse, famous as a promenade in days of peace. Along that boulevard stand many of Vienna's noted buildings and it's surprising what a large number have survived the bombardment, in whole or in part. A good deal of repair work already is under way, too, so that you feel a pulse of life, whereas in cities like Berlin there has been virtually total destruction, you don't need to be told that they are dead.

Field and Stream Club Is Active In Promoting Wild Life By Various Projects

At recent meetings of the Warren Field and Stream Club definite action has been taken which should increase the hunting and fishing conditions for the sportsmen of Warren county. The local club has donated $200 to the Spring Creek Fisherman's paradise which is located just outside of the town of Spring Creek on the Clough property. While this project is sponsored by the North-west Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs consisting of nine northwestern counties of Pennsylvania, it was through the members of the local sportsmen's club and especially the untiring efforts of F. M. Geer, better known as "Mac", that the project became a reality. The paradise has been approved by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission but because of the present laws, the Fish Commission cannot spend any money on stream improvements if they do not hold title to the property. One of the stipulations of the five year lease was that certain changes be made which would improve the fishing conditions and direct the entire flow of water through one channel instead of the present several small shallow divisions. The cost of these improvements will amount to several hundred dollars. Members of the Field and Stream Club have recently shellacked and stapled one hundred and fifty posters which will be placed on the two and one half miles of the stream which constitutes the paradise.

The rules and regulations are as follows:

1. Fishing from 5:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.
2. Artificial lures only.
3. Legal limit 9 inches.
4. Creel limit six per day.

The committee in charge of the paradise have decided not to limit the hook to the barbless variety. The Fish Commission has promised that the stream will be stocked with at least twice as many fish this year as at any time in the past and will increase this program from year to year. The stream which is open to anyone with a Pennsylvania Fishing License will be patrolled constantly as it is realized that the new regulations will require considerable "explaining" even though the posters set forth all the rules.

The two Fish Commission technicians who inspected the stream have declared it to be the best trout stream in the State of Pennsylvania and with the increased stocking and rigid control the stream should within a year or two become as famous as the Bellefonte Paradise. While the rules of the paradise will apply to the two and a half miles at the lower end of the stream, the rest of the stream as well as the Brokenstraw Creek will be open to all fishing and the regular fishing laws will govern. There is no doubt that the entire stream will benefit from the tremendous stocking program.

The Field and Stream Clubbers have become increasingly alarmed over the decrease in rabbits and the loss of the once prevalent ringnecks. Deciding that something had to be done to restore the good hunting conditions of the past, the club succeeded in getting a resolution through the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and the Game Commission for a return of the $4 bounty on both red and grey foxes. The result was that over one thousand foxes were trapped in Warren county during the past season. With the predators partially under control, the local club brought Dr. Logan Bennett of State College to Warren to look over the county from a technical point of view and recommend his solution to the problem of restoring our small game. Dr. Bennett, since his graduation from agricultural school, has devoted all of his time to the study of game propagation and game management. He has traveled widely and worked with several different state game commissions and for the past several years has been in Pennsylvania.

Those who had the privilege of hearing him at March meeting of the Field and Stream Club realize that he has a thorough understanding of the subject. Dr. Bennett spent an entire day going over the county and advised the club that while there was plenty of cover for ringnecks and rabbits, there was not enough food to carry them over the winter months. In order to provide the needed food, the local organization decided to spend an initial two hundred dollars on a trial area. The swampy lands along the Conewago Creek from Russell to the New York State line was selected due to the ideal over conditions. Farmers along this area have been contacted by the Conservation Committee and have agreed to plant and cultivate game food as near to the natural cover as possible. The farmers will be paid for the crops that are properly placed and cared for. Several different plans have been worked out with the farmers and the committee has found the farmers very anxious to cooperate on any plan which will increase the game supply. The Game Commission has assured the committee that the area will be stocked heavily and have already placed twenty-seven hen and fifteen cock ringnecks in the area as a starter on the spring stocking.

The Game Commission has complimented the club very highly on the program and have advised the officers of the Field and Stream Club that the local organization is the only one in the state that has a conservation program such as this. It is realized that it may take two or three years to increase the ringneck flock to the point where there will be ideal hunting conditions but a good starter will be made this year. If the program works out successfully, other areas will be included next year and hunting conditions should improve considerably. Dr. Bennett assured the members of the Field and Stream Club that it has been his observation that where game food has been planted, rabbits have profited as much or more than the ringnecks and the larger kill of rabbits each year has paid big dividends on the money spent. The local club should be highly commended on the action it has taken and every sportsman in Warren county should lend their support to the programs which will make this county a better hunting and fishing paradise.
